

What will happen next?

Adult and Community Services work closely with other organisations and the person affected to find out as much as possible about what has happened.

We will do a number of things which might include:

- talking to you and other people involved to find out what has happened;
- planning what to do to safeguard the person being harmed;
- supporting the person and their carers through the process;
- being available to offer support in the future.

If we suspect a crime has been committed, the police will be involved, working alongside other agencies.

Dorset County Council operates a 'zero tolerance' approach to safeguarding adults and every referral will be taken seriously.

What is meant by harm?

There are several types of harm. The following are the most common but the list is not exclusive:

- physical harm such as hitting, pushing
- verbal harm such as shouting
- psychological or emotional harm such as bullying, taunting or humiliating someone
- sexual abuse such as inappropriate touching, forcing someone to take part in any sexual act against their will
- financial harm such as theft or exploitation
- neglect and acts of omission – failing to look after someone who needs care or support
- discrimination such as ill treatment due to the person's age, gender, disability, religious beliefs or race which may include harassment
- Institutional harm – where an organisation has policies or practices which are harmful.

Who might be at risk?

The term 'adult at risk' refers to a person aged 18 or over who is unable to protect themselves from harm or exploitation. This might be because of mental ill-health, a learning disability, age, physical disability, serious drug or alcohol misuse or other illness.

Who might carry out the harm?

Unfortunately we know this can happen anywhere and can be carried out by anyone. This can mean:

- family, friends, neighbours;
- paid staff, carers, volunteers;
- other service users or patients;
- strangers.
